Refined How Might We...

How might we encourage college educated millennials, ages 20 - 25, to regularly engage in and take part in online discussions about current events, while being exposed to diverse political perspectives?

From Bob's Account

The sketch depicts a messenger application interface. On the left is a contact list with a search bar at the top. The search bar contains the text "Search Messenger". Below it are seven contact entries, each with a circular profile picture icon and a name: Billy Jones, Daniel Lee, Ralph Lawrence, Tommy Hilfinger, Lauren Conrad, Anita Alvarez, Joan Kim, and Adam Sandpaper. The main chat area on the right is titled "Woke AF Club". The conversation starts with a message from "NewsBot" (represented by a robot icon) that says "Here's an article for each of you to check out!". Below this is a large rectangular placeholder for an article, with the text "DOWNTON!! 5 Reasons It's Dumb to Panic Over Global Warming" written above it. A message from "Bob" (represented by a smiley face icon) follows, saying "Wow, this seems so interesting!". Then, another message from "NewsBot" says "Chloe finished reading." and "Bob, Joan, Philip read up!". A message from "Joan" (represented by a smiley face icon) says "Will do!". At the bottom of the chat area, there is a thumbs-up icon and a text input field with the placeholder "Type a Message".
